And that was so totally mind-bogglingly amazing that we did it again ... and again ... and again! And (no kidding) we rate all of these safaris amongst the very best travel experiences we've ever had.

That's why we're going back yet again – in September 2027 – and YOU'RE invited to come!

Words can't really describe the sights, sounds, smells, tastes and experiences that await you: the fantastic wildlife parks of Kenya & Tanzania (stunning scenery stretching as far as the eye could see) ... the abundance of wild-and-wonderful animals (a zoo will never be the same!) ... the endless herds of gazelles, zebras, wildebeest ... the majesty of elephants on the move ... the thrill of cheetahs at full-speed and leopards with a kill and lions on a hunt ...

In short, there's no end to the fun that happens, the friendships that are formed, and the memories that are made when likeminded, young-at-heart Kiwis go on a wild adventure together.

We're old hands when it comes to touring. Plus we make a point of 'adding value' – with special Mad Midlife extras that make good tours GREAT! So come and share this amazing SAFARI with us ...

OUR ITINERARY...

let us explain:

THIS IS SO COOL! IN SEPTEMBER 2027, WE'RE GONNA FLY to Dubai, where we'll have time to sample this remarkable modern metropolis on the Arabian Peninsula. Then we'll continue to Nairobi in Kenya, where we'll finally get to eyeball the free-to-roam wildlife in East Africa's endless gameparks.

We'll spend day-after-day in open-top 4WD safari vehicles ... we'll spend night-after-night in luxury African-theme safari lodges ... and, on the way, we'll learn some of the secrets of this ancient continent. Throughout the entire 20 days we'll eat lots, laugh lots, enjoy each other's company, take a zillion photos and generally have the time of our lives!

Closer to departure we'll send you our Final Itinerary – with full flight times, hotels, safari lodges, and sightseeing arrangements. But here, to whet your appetite, is our Interim Itinerary.

Read on and get excited ...

midlife madness on safari: our itinerary September 2027

Day 1

up, up and away!

Don't tell anyone, but our Mad Midlife Safari is actually happening at last! We depart Auckland International Airport on our long, long Emirates flight to Dubai on the other side of the world. ...

Day 2

glittering gulf state: Dubai (United Arab Emirates)

(B)

In the entire Persian Gulf there's no place quite like Dubai, with its modern palaces sprawled along the coast and its soaring glass-&-steel skyscrapers. We touch down early this morning, and have breakfast waiting for us in our air-conditioned hotel.

This afternoon we've got a city tour, including the magnificent Jumeirah Mosque, a palace, a museum, the 150-year-old Al Fahidi Fort, 'wind-towered' houses at Bastakia, a short 'abra' (water-taxi) ride on the famous Dubai Creek, and the glittering, aromatic Gold & Spice Souk (market). Sometime this avo, in the Dubai Mall, we travel to the top of the world's tallest building – the Burj Khalifa – for super-lofty views. Of this hi-energy city. Then back to our hotel and bed – zzzzzzzz.

Day 3

here we come: Nairobi at last!

(B, D)

Hope you got to bed early last night, because, this morning, we depart Dubai on another 5-hour flight – arriving at last in Nairobi, Kenya.

KARIBU! WELCOME TO AFRICA!

After transferring to the Safari Park Hotel, the rest of the day is all ours – to relax and explore this African-theme resort (plus grab a nana-nap if needed).

This evening, we share a barbecue under the stars ... and enjoy a colourful African song-&-dance show ...

Safari Park Hotel, Nairobi

Day 4

a walk on the wild side: Sweetwaters Camp

(B, L, D)

Our long-awaited African Wildlife Safari is underway at last! Following breakfast, we greet the friendly guys who will be our driver/guides in Kenya. Then we set off in our 4WDs for the OI Pejeta Conservancy, a 90,000-acre wildlife reserve that boasts a higher wildlife-to-area ratio than any of Kenya's other national parks. A night under canvas awaits us – at the Sweetwaters Tented Camp. But panic not: you don't have to pitch your own pup-tent! These are spacious, walk-in, permanent tents set on solid floors, with en suites and all the comforts of home.

And guess what? We arrive in time for our first 'proper' game-drive – YEEHAA!

You'll want to check out the waterhole after dinner tonight, and watch the animals coming and going, drinking and bathing, foraging and arguing as darkness falls.

Then, when you can't ignore bed any longer, you're allowed to fall asleep accompanied by the symphony of the African night. Ahh, yes ...

Sweetwaters Tented Camp, Kenya

Day 5

colour those birds pink: Lake Nakuru

Once we're all fed and watered this morning (having been awakened, with any luck, by noisy wildlife), we're off again – driving south along the Great Rift Valley for lunch at the beautifully located Sarova Lion Hill Lodge and views of yet another unique African spectacle.

Nakuru National Park is home to 400 different species of birds, plus waterbucks, warthogs, impalas, buffalos, and cheetahs. It's also one of the few places in which we can see the endangered white rhino.

What's more, if we are lucky enough to arrive when water-levels in the small, shallow, alkaline Lake Nakuru are where nature needs them, we may eyeball flocks of fushia-pink flamingos, feasting and frolicking in the nutrient-rich 'pool', with nearly-as-many ungainly, yellow-billed pelicans!

Sarova Lion Hill Lodge, Kenya

taking to the water: Lake Naivasha

We're spending today at a famous bird-watchers' lake: Lake Naivasha (the highest of the Great Rift Lakes – 1880 metres above sea level). And, for something a little different, we'll enjoy a game-drive with a difference: aboard a small-boat. So keep an eye out (and your bird-book at the ready) for pelicans, cormorants, black herons, babblers, lovebirds, kingfishers, hoopoes, rollers, shrikes, cuckoos, and fish eagles.

Oh, and don't be alarmed if you come across a sizable population of sizable hippos!

By the way, the late Joy Adamson, who wrote the book 'Born Free', made her home on the shores of this lake.

Tonight we're guests at the Lake Naivasha Sopa Resort – shaded by acacias and spreading fever-trees on the lake's edge.

Lake Naivasha Sopa Resort, Kenya

Day 7

going cross-country: Masai Mara

Our day starts (as most of them do) with breakfast. Then, packing bags and bodies into our 4WDs, we set off into Kenya's famous Masai Mara Regional Park.

This sea of bush-cloaked hills and richly rolling grasslands is centre-stage for the most dramatic wildlife show on earth: the legendary migration (from May to Nov each year) of vast herds of wildebeest, zebras and gazelles, with six million hooves pounding the open plains. These herds are, of course, closely followed by the predators – lions, hyenas and their kin.

So, while those predators dine tonight on a menu of unlucky wildebeest, we get to eat in the Mara Serena's spectacular restaurant overlooking the picturesque Mara savannah.

Day 8

animals-animals-animals: Masai Mara

The Masai Mara (1800 square kms) is not the largest protected wildlife reserve, but it's among the best for game viewing. And one good way to fully appreciate all this is from a great height.

If you've booked on the optional hot-air balloon safari, you've got an early start this morning – arriving at the launch-site in time to watch the balloons being inflated ... getting settled in your balloon basket (following a safety briefing) and preparing for take-off ... then, as the sun comes up, rising gently into the air for this unbeatable 'high'.

Upon landing, we enjoy a classy champagne breakfast, followed by a game-drive that ends up back at our lodge.

Mara Serena Safari Lodge, Kenya

As well as swarming wildebeest and zebras, Masai Mara's grassy plains are littered with antelopes, buffalo, herds of gazelles, topi and impala, alert cheetahs with their playful young, and wandering families of elephants and giraffes. The Mara's rivers are also popular hang-outs for crocodiles and hippos – so, on our game-drives, keep your camera close at hand.

One more highlight today: a visit to a Masai village or kraal, so we can mix with these remarkable nomadic people in their bright red cloaks ... check out their ancient customs ... inspect their mud-&-dung huts ... play with their kids ... and buy some hand-crafted souvenirs. Great fun? You bet!

two more nights under canvas: Kirawira Camp

Today, after crossing the Kenya-Tanzania border at Isebania (where we clear customs and immigration formalities), we enjoy a taste of Africa in the old tradition – at another luxury tented campsite near the Grumeti River (famed for its giant crocodiles).

The Kirawira Camp is perched on a hill with uninterrupted views of the Western Serengeti Plains. The Serengeti, with its wide open spaces and creature-filled landscape, is the most famous wildlife sanctuary in the world.

The lush vegetation around Kirawira is home to a wide variety of large game – lion, buffalo, cheetah, giraffe, baboon, gazelle, wildebeest – plus smaller species like jackals, spotted hyenas. Oh, plus abundant, colourful birdlife.

Tonight, we get treated to superb cuisine (cooked on site), fine wines and the best of East African hospitality ... before having a soak in the pool (if we wish) and drifting off to sleep with the night-time sounds of the vast savannah reaching us through the canvas.

Kirawira Serena Camp, Tanzania

Day 10

(B, L, D)

sunburnt savannah: Serengeti

Our adventure continues today with morning and afternoon game-drives in the vast game-park.

Keep your eyes open and binoculars focussed, because you never know what wildly wonderful surprise awaits you around the very next bend in the road. A tree-climbing leopard, perhaps ... or some of the Serengeti's extraordinary birds!

And don't overlook the little critters, especially around the park's isolated granite kopjes: gaudy agama lizards, and scuffling rock hyraxes, and tiny, hard-working dung beetles.

What blows you away about the Serengeti Plains is the liberating sense of space: this sunburnt savannah seems to stretch forever, disappearing in a shimmering golden horizon. The nomadic Masai people, who've been grazing their cattle on these grasslands for millennia, regard this as paradise. To them, it's the Siringitu: "the place where the land moves on forever" ... and the patterns of life and death are as old as the hills themselves.

wall-to-wall wildlife: Serengeti

The Serengeti is everyone's dream of Africa ... and one of the last places on earth where such vast numbers of large animals can still be seen at-home in their natural habitat.

We bid goodbye to the Kirawira this morning, and take an easterly route across the endless plains. Stay alert, folks, because there's every chance the Big Five could be out in force. During the rainy season when grass is plentiful, and tasty lunch-size wildebeests, zebras and gazelles are thick on the ground. As the savannah dries out, they stream north into the Masai Mara for more green food. Then when the rains start again, they stream all the way back – obeying an instinct so strong that no drought, gorge, charging lion or crocodile-infested river can hold them back.

Oh, by the way: tonight we're in individual thatched 'rondavels' (domed huts) – another true 'out of Africa' experience you're unlikely to forget in a hurry!

Serengeti Serena Safari Lodge, Tanzania

Day 12

eighth wonder of the natural world: Ngorongoro Crater

Once we've downed our bacon'n'eggs, we're on the road again, arriving around lunchtime at our lodge-for-two-nights – clad in river-boulders, cloaked in creepers, and set high up on the rim of the world's largest intact volcanic caldera: the spectacular Ngorongoro Crater.

This sunken crater is a good 20kms across, with a base area covering 260 square kms. The original volcano must have towered as high as Mt Kilimanjaro (5895m) – and a lot higher than Mt Cook (3724m).

Ngorongoro Serena Safari Lodge, Tanzania

Identified as a World Heritage Site, and rated the Eighth Wonder of the Natural World, the Ngorongoro Conservation Area contains over 25,000 large animals (including black rhinos) ... some 4000 buffalos, 7000 wildebeests, 4000 zebras, 3000 eland and 3000 Grant's and Thomson's gazelles. The crater also has the densest known population of lions.

Brace yourselves, folks: this place is unforgettable!

the largest zoo on the planet: Ngorongoro Crater

If it's highlights you're after, today is sure to give you a few – so hurry up and get ready! Our safari vehicles take us down 600 metres through the early-morning mists onto the crater floor – all encased in one of the most picturesque settings you can imagine, with wildlife so used to humans that you can almost “reach out and touch ...”

Our game-drive will take us to several distinct habitats within the crater: forests, swamps, lakes, springs, grasslands and even some sand dunes. We'll see all the usuals, plus (hopefully) a few unusuals: hartebeests, oryx, warthogs, lesser kudus, spotted hyenas, jackals, rare wild dogs, cheetahs, and other felines – including (if we're lucky) the magnificent black-maned lions!

Tonight, we relax over a leisurely dinner at our lodge, as a fiery-red African sunset fades into the endless night sky. Aww, how romantic ...!

brilliant birdlife: Lake Manyara

Once we've stretched, yawned, rubbed the sleep from our eyes, and enjoyed another Weight-Watchers (not!) breakfast ... our wild adventure continues.

Today, en route to more game-viewing plus our lodge-for-the-night (set high on a ridge overlooking the Great Rift Valley and Lake Manyara), we'll probably pass the odd colonial homestead surrounded by coffee plantations.

Lake Manyara Serena Lodge, Tanzania

Keep an eye out (and your camera ready) for baboon troops lounging along the roadside, blue monkeys scampering between the ancient mahogany trees, dainty bushbucks treading warily through the shadows, and oversized forest hornbills honking loudly in the high canopy.

We're also sure to witness the extraordinary birdlife that brings untold tourists to Tarangire National Park each year. (400 different species have been spotted here.) And, if we haven't seen them already, this is the place to find a huge, squat baobab tree.

made in Hollywood: Amboseli

Yeehaa! We're off again – driving first to the town of Arusha, where we stop for lunch, then crossing back across the border into Kenya. Our destination? Amboseli National Park – a vast, mostly-dry lakebed, famous for its great herds of elephant.

Framed against the glorious backdrop of Africa's highest peak, the magnificent pink-tinged snow-capped Mt Kilimanjaro, Amboseli provides the classic movie image of an African safari park. And, speaking of movies, we might even see one tonight – about this park's most famous four-legged mother: Echo, the elephant.

Our home for the next two nights is nestled in the foothills beneath giant acacia trees, and patrolled by elephants. (Just watch out for cheeky monkeys!) Ahh yes, this is the life ...

Amboseli Serena Safari Lodge, Kenya

Day 16

big, bigger and biggest: Amboseli

These lush rolling grasslands support 400 species of birds, plus all the other animals (large and larger) that we've been getting to know so well: big cats sleeping under a shady tree or hunting for their next meal ... snorting buffalo, sharp of horn and eager to charge ... squat rhinos, looking for all the world like leftovers from a prehistoric age ... lanky giraffes, nibbling at sweet shoots in the tallest acacia trees ... plus untold elephants: here a few bachelor bulls, sticking together for company – there a big family of mums and their playful muddy youngsters.

Amboseli is the best place in Kenya to see these giants up-close and personal – the park is home to one of the few large elephant populations in all of Africa that hasn't been ravaged by poachers. Trust us: this will be a treat!

(Oh, forgot to say: Kilimanjaro, which looms in the background at Amboseli and stands guard over the elephants, is the highest free-standing mountain in the world, topped by one-fifth of all the ice in Africa. Just thought you might want to know ...)

Day 17

out of Africa: Nairobi

Our MAD WILDLIFE SAFARI is almost over. And this morning we say goodbye to the game parks and follow the main road north to Kenya's capital, Nairobi. Upon arrival, we share a farewell lunch at (can you believe this?) Carnivores Restaurant – where every type of meat imaginable is roasted over charcoal and carved at your table!

Carnivores! That's appropriate, don't you reckon? If the animals haven't eaten us, we now get to eat them ...

We've seen so much, done so much, experienced so much that it's hard to get it in any sort of order. We've enjoyed a feast of wild'n'wonderful things ... and tonight, after a farewell dinner in our hotel, we bed down for our last sleepy-byes in Africa.

Day 18 to

(B)

"Kwaheri (goodbye) Kenya!"

Have you got room for one more African treat? One more touching wildlife memory? After checking out of the Safari Park Hotel, we detour to an animal nursery that cares for baby elephants that've been orphaned by poachers. You might even be invited to foster one of these heavyweight toddlers ("Ohh, aren't they cute!") and help them return to the wild ...

Then we're off to Kenya's international airport for our return flight – via Dubai – to Auckland and Godzone. We have a date, halfway round the world, with a place we call HOME!

Which means it's over (sob)! Our MAD MIDLIFE SAFARI has come to an end. And it's time to say "Kwaheri!" – goodbye – to our African friends and the wildlife we've fallen in love with.

We'll probably arrive a bit pooped and jetlagged, although that'll pass. But we'll never forget our wonderful weeks in Kenya and Tanzania. We've had a once-in-a-lifetime adventure ... plus we've made some great friends ... and we've got stories, memories and photos to prove it!

IS EVERYBODY HAPPY?

YOU BET YOUR LIFE WE ARE!

UP IN THE AIR ...

optional extra: Balloon Safari over Masai Mara

IMAGINE THE THRILL OF TAKING TO THE AIR IN A HOT-AIR BALLOON AS THE RISING SUN POKES ITS NOSE above the distant horizon. Imagine floating peacefully above the vast African plains – at times skimming the treetops for close-ups of elephants and wildebeest, zebras and giraffes ... at other times lifting high in the sky so you can fully appreciate the breathtaking panorama below. Imagine sitting in the open under the shade of a classic umbrella tree, the table laid and waiting, a glass of bubbly in your hand, and the delicious aroma of a yummy 'bush-breakfast' filling the air.

An early morning balloon-safari is the most popular 'add-on' option with tourists in East Africa ... and the Masai Mara, with its open grasslands and dense populations of wildlife, is the perfect place to do it.

We Cooneys have done it a couple of times – and we enjoyed it so much that, even if we have to rob a bank or sell our organs to medical science, we're gonna do it again! Wouldn't miss it for the world!

The cost (in 2025): NZ $932.

Would YOU like to add this unique experience to your Mad Midlife Adventure in Africa? We'll remind you closer to Departure Day, but to book your place in the balloon basket, please indicate on your Booking Form (see last page) or contact us: phone 0800 323 333 or email info@midlifemadness.tours.

Midlife Madness founders & hosts: Robyn & John Cooney

TRAVEL HAS FEATURED HIGH ON OUR AGENDA FOR SEVERAL DECADES NOW. IN BETWEEN KIDS & grandkids, plus publishing the family magazine Grapevine, we've been privileged to visit many stunning destinations: Europe, the UK, Singapore, Vanuatu, the USA, Israel, Egypt, Africa (Kenya & Tanzania), China, Laos-Cambodia-Vietnam, the Mediterranean, the Baltic, India, China, South America, Canada, Alaska. And, early in the piece, we launched Midlife Madness Tours.

We've hosted six Safaris in the past, and our September 2027 WILD AFRICAN SAFARI can't come quick enough – mind-blowing views, up-close animal-&-bird encounters, great company, lots of laughs, and memories that will last forever.

Here's hoping YOU will join us!

ABOUT YOU?

age, health & mobility

THIS MAD MIDLIFE SAFARI IS DESIGNED FOR FUN-LOVING, YOUNG-AT-HEART PEOPLE IN MIDLIFE – GIVE OR take a decade or two! Our groups always include a good mix of singles and couples, plus a good mix of ages! Let's face it, your date-of-birth isn't as relevant as your health, mobility, outlook-on-life and sense-of-humour.

This Safari will involve lengthy flights and some early mornings/long days, plus lots of climbing in-and-out of 4WD safari vehicles. So long as you're healthy, mobile, able to keep up and keen to join in the fun, you'll fit in just fine!

medical certificate please

IF YOU HAVE ANY HEALTH OR MOBILITY PROBLEMS – OR ARE 75 YEARS OLD (OR OLDER) – we ask you to complete this Midlife Madness Medical Certificate – which requires input from your regular doctor.

If we believe this tour is unsuitable for you, we may decline your booking, with regret ... or we may request that you travel with someone else (if you aren't already) – spouse/partner/family member/friend – who will accompany you and provide any assistance you may need.

travel insurance – compulsory

TRAVELLING WITH NO (OR INADEQUATE) INSURANCE IS HIGHLY RISKY – AND, SHOULD AN ACCIDENT OR illness occur while you're overseas, it can prove extremely costly! Which is why we require everyone joining this Safari to have adequate, up-to-date insurance (including provision for emergency evacuation). Regrettably, failure to attend to this could result in your booking being declined.

#1. Jacqui (our Bookings Manager) can offer a TRAVEL INSURANCE POLICY – with a discount (up-to-10%) you might like to take advantage of. Email jacqui@midlifemadness.tours and ask for a quote. Please also tick the 'Travel Insurance' box on your Booking Form (down the right-hand side of the form).

#2. Alternatively, you can arrange YOUR OWN INSURANCE, if you wish. However, to avoid an unpleasant shock:

- please check your policy carefully to be sure what you're covered for: e.g. you should be covered for 'emergency evacuation' (in the event of serious injury or illness) and 'civil commotion' (in the event of riots).
- please send us a copy of your policy document, showing the policy number, emergency contact numbers, etc – so we have this information on hand, in the unlikely event of an accident or illness.

malaria & yellow fever

EAST AFRICA IS A TROPICAL DESTINATION, WITH DOCTORS AND HOSPITALS FEW AND FAR BETWEEN. SO you must take sensible precautions. You should familiarise yourself with the HEALTH info we'll send you, closer to departure. And (now rather than later) you should also ask your GP or nearest Travel Doctor Clinic about immunisations & vaccinations: especially for malaria and yellow-fever.

- ◆ Malaria is a life-threatening disease primarily found in many tropical countries, and transmitted by infected mosquitoes. Our safari itinerary avoids any known problem-areas – however, it's important that you follow your doctor's advice carefully, and take your anti-malaria medication exactly as prescribed.
- ◆ Yellow-fever is an acute viral disease endemic to certain tropical areas in Africa and South America, and also transmitted by mosquitoes. For travellers to parts of Africa, yellow-fever inoculation is compulsory – and, at the Kenya/Tanzania border, we'll each be asked to present an International Certificate of Vaccination.
- ◆ The single yellow-fever dose provides lifelong protection, and the vaccine (plus the all-important certificate) can only be obtained from authorised medical centres. To find one nearest you go to www.health.govt.nz ... search for 'yellow fever' ... and click on 'authorised-yellow-fever-vaccination-centres'.

Please note: YELLOW FEVER INNOCULATIONS ARE COMPULSORY. Before we can lock-in your safari booking and deposit you need to confirm (see Booking Form) that either you've already had your yellow-fever jab, or you've checked and made arrangements to get one.

It is your responsibility to insure yourself fully with a comprehensive policy that includes provision for emergency evacuation.

HEALTH AND FITNESS

PRE-EXISTING MEDICAL CONDITIONS: We strongly recommend a visit to your doctor and dentist before your holiday. You must ask your doctor about current inoculation requirements. Full details of pre-existing medical conditions must be forwarded to Midlife Madness Tours & Jacqui Williamson/The Travel Brokers when you book. Failure to do so is a breach of these conditions and may result in your being excluded from the tour and all funds paid being forfeited. Clients 75 years old (or more) and/or with pre-existing medical conditions require a medical certificate from their doctor clearing them for this tour, and Midlife Madness Tours & Jacqui Williamson/The Travel Brokers reserves the right, at its discretion, to cancel your booking and refund the money paid by you. During your holiday you are under the control of your Tour Hosts, who have the authority to determine your suitability to continue with the tour.

ILLNESS OR ABSENTEEISM: In case you have to withdraw from the tour after it has begun for reasons such as illness, be sure to obtain a medical certificate to support any insurance claim. Midlife Madness Tours & Jacqui Williamson/The Travel Brokers regrets that they cannot make refunds for absences from the tour, including but not limited to missed meals or sightseeing. If a promotional airfare is broken or extended for any reason, an additional fare may be payable.

PHYSICAL DISABILITIES: If you need any form of assistance or are physically disabled, you must be accompanied by a passenger who will take full responsibility for any assistance needed during the tour and in the event of an emergency. You must notify us in writing prior to booking of any disabilities, medical apparatus, or special medical assistance you may need.
